2012-13 Special Circumstances Review - Dependent Student

Circumstances We Consider for Review -
- Death of a parent
- Divorce and Legal Separation
- Changes in Financial Resources due to:
  - Unemployment or significant change in earnings
  - Disability of a parent
  - Loss of one-time income received in 2011
  - Loss of an asset due to foreclosure
  - Change in retirement or other investments
  - Loss of child support
  - Prior year out of pocket medical expenses (not covered by health insurance)
  - Tuition for Special-Needs Private School
  - Other income reduction that is justified and documented by the family.

Circumstances We Do Not Consider for Review -
Due to limited funding, our office is unable to consider the following types of expenses or adjustments to income when determining your financial aid eligibility.
- Consumer debt, including credit card debt
- Private school tuition (other than special-needs)

Steps to Completing the Special Circumstance Process –
1. Complete the Special Circumstances Review form.
2. Provide a letter clearly explaining the special circumstances.
3. Attach photocopies of all required documentation to support your request; refer to instructions on page 2.
5. If clarification or additional documentation is needed, a financial aid counselor will contact you.
6. Students will be notified once their request has been reviewed.

Evaluation -
Upon reviewing the family circumstance and supporting documentation, the financial aid counselor will adjust the appropriate data elements to best reflect the anticipated income/assets available to the family. The information provided by the family will be used to determine the student's eligibility for federal and state aid.
After review, your aid will be revised to include eligibility for grants and loans based on your new Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Campus-based awards may be awarded if funds are available.

Timing of the Request Process -
Requests will be reviewed beginning August 1, 2012. You may need to access the aid you’ve already been offered to meet the September 17, 2012 fall fee deadline. Adjustments will be applied retroactively to fall aid already received. Please note: Requests that include projected loss of income due to investments such as real estate, business, Partnerships and/or capital losses may be processed, but we will place a hold on spring 2013 term funding until you file and submit a 2012 federal income tax return transcript to our office. Due to the difficulty in projecting loss of income, parents may choose to wait until their 2012 federal income tax return is filed.

Deadlines -
The following are the deadlines to submit appeal requests for consideration of available University grant (if eligible):
   - Fall Term – November 9, 2012
   - Winter Term – February 11, 2013
   - Spring Term – May 14, 2013
Please check the appropriate box which applies to your parent(s’) special circumstance. Submit a letter of explanation and provide the requested supporting documentation. If you must submit a Federal income tax return transcript, visit www.irs.gov for instructions on requesting one.
